A Message From Our Superintendent

Dear DMUSD Families,

As we begin this new school year, our district is at an exciting juncture! For years, we have embraced our work to inspire the potential in each child, and we have never let up on our ambition to provide an extraordinary school experience for every student. We have had clear priorities with our previous strategic plan, and now the exciting work of implementing our new strategic plan, Destination 2028!, begins.

As the world changes, this generation of students, known as Generation Alpha, needs us to be forward-thinking and committed to implementing what is best for their future success. So, how do we prepare Generation Alpha for the future? It's not enough for students to simply do what computers can do. Anything that can be outsourced to robotics and automation will be.

What computers can't do is interact with people. Our students must develop empathy and compassion. They must be able to think through complex tasks and have the transferable social skills to innovate and adapt, using technology as a tool but still thrive in the world of humans.

The school experience needs to continue to evolve and include opportunities that are interactive and immersive. The task we are confronted with is designing rich and meaningful learning that has at its core engaging experiences, innovative thinking, and a compelling curriculum. Undoubtedly, our students need us to be intentional about fostering critical thinking, communication, and collaboration within dynamic learning spaces. This takes great facilitation by skilled teachers who are highly competent in delivering quality instruction.

It remains our vision and our commitment that every student in DMUSD has an extraordinary educational experience. We are excited to work alongside you to make this a wonderful year for students!

Sincerely,

Holly McClurg

Holly McClurg, PhD
Superintendent
