

Local Food for Schools

Satsuma Mandarins

About Regier Family Farm

Located in Dinuba, California, Regier Family Farms has been operating since 1983. They specialize in growing peaches from May-September and Mandarins in the winter months. They sell their produce in various farmers markets throughout Santa Barbara, Carpinteria, and Goleta.

About the Fruit

Satsuma mandarins are the perfect snacking citrus! This variety is sweet, juicy, easy to peel, and often times seedless. They are typically in season from late fall through December.

Like all citrus fruits, Satsumas contain Vitamin C that can help boost your immune system and keep you healthy.

Fun Fact!

The preserved mandarin oranges you find in your packaged fruit cups are most likely made from Satsuma mandarins!

Source:

<http://oranges.com/satsuma-oranges>

"This institution is an equal opportunity provider."

